

The Friends support Cuerden Valley Park in many ways:

- Providing much-needed funds for the Park through their subscriptions
- Demonstrating to other bodies the strength of local support
- Raising funds for the Park
- Assisting with Park conservation work and events
- Arranging a programme of talks and walks on the Park
- Participating in wildlife surveys on the Park
- Being a forum for expressing public views on how the Park is managed

To apply for membership please turn over and fill in your details.

The benefits of becoming a member of the Friends are:

- You become a Member of the Trust and are eligible to vote at the AGM
- You're helping to keep the Park open
- Receive regular newsletter with updates on what is happening on the Park
- Annual Wildlife Reports of sightings of mammals, birds, butterflies, dragonflies and flowers
- Participation in organised events on the Park
- A chance to get more involved with the Park on the practical side as a volunteer
- The opportunity to become a Friends' Committee member
- The ability to do as little or as much as you wish
- 10% off in the café with your membership card

However, it's not about what the Park can do for you, but what you can do for the Park!

The Friends of Cuerden Valley Park Application for Membership

Cuerden Valley Park is a country park lying between Preston and Chorley and to the east of Leyland. Covering an area of 260 hectares (650 acres), largely centred on the valley of the River Lostock, it encompasses an attractive diversity of landscape and ecology with a number of historical features.

It is owned and managed by Cuerden Valley Park Trust (Reg. Charity No. 1002888). The Trust is financed with income from its car parking charges, donations, grants investments, and monies raised by the Friends.
